Scope of this Guide

The Australian Securities & Investment Commission (ASIC) issued RG 240 in October 2013. RG 240 sets out particular benchmarks and disclosure principles designed to provide improved disclosure to retail investors to help them compare risks and returns for investments like the Affluence Investment Fund.

This guide relates to Benchmark 2: Periodic Reporting, and covers the key information which RG 240 states must be disclosed at least annually.

All statistics and amounts in this Guide are as at 31 December 2018 unless stated otherwise.

Liquidity Profile

To appropriately manage liquidity through the investment cycle:

- The Fund holds at least 5% of assets in cash.
- The Fund processes applications and withdrawals monthly.
- Withdrawals are paid approximately 25 days after each cut-off date, to provide time to redeem Fund investments if necessary.
- AFM targets at least 50% of Fund assets to be held in cash or investments that can be realised within 25 days of the next withdrawal cut-off date.
- AFM targets at least 80% of Fund assets to be held in cash or investments that can be realised within 90 days of the next withdrawal cut-off date.

The following graph shows the liquidity profile of the Fund’s investments (the estimated time required to sell the assets at the value ascribed to that assets in the Fund’s most recently calculated net asset value). The period to sell an asset is estimated from the 25th of each month, which is the cut-off date for Fund withdrawals.

Maturity Profile of Liabilites

This is not applicable as the Fund does not borrow directly or have any significant liabilities.

Leverage Ratio

The Fund does not borrow directly. Some investments the Fund holds will have exposure to leverage, through borrowings, derivatives or short selling. In assessing a potential investment, we take into account the level of any leverage and the potential impact of that leverage on returns, risk and volatility of the investment.

We have estimated the leverage ratio of the Fund, including leverage embedded in the assets of the Fund (excluding listed equities). In estimating the look through leverage ratio, we have relied upon information provided by the underlying managers with regards to any direct borrowings and their gross exposure levels. As at the date of this Guide the estimated look through leverage ratio excluding cash in the Fund and investments was 116% (16% leverage, or for every $1 of the Fund’s net asset value the gross exposure was $1.16), and the leverage ratio including cash in the Fund and investments was 99% (net cash of 1%, or for every $1 of the Fund’s net asset value the gross exposure was $0.99).

Derivatives Counterparties

This is not applicable at the date of this Guide as the Fund does not have any derivative counterparties.
