Fund Commentary

The Affluence LIC Fund decreased by 1.4% in February. Since the Fund commenced over five years ago, returns have averaged 13.0% per annum, including quarterly distributions of 7.4% per annum. The Fund has outperformed the ASX200 Index over most periods, with significantly lower volatility than the Index.

The month was dominated by the tragic events in Ukraine. This caused global stock markets to fall approximately 5% in February, following January's losses. While the Australian equity market increased by 2.1%, there was a wide range of results under the surface. Commodities saw strong increases while the previous high flying tech names tumbled. Volatility has continued to be high due to the combination of rocketing commodity prices, ongoing anxiety regarding a global conflict and the potential for higher and more sustained inflation. The US Federal Reserve is expected to increase interest rates in March and stop its quantitative easing program. Both actions represent reversals of the easy monetary conditions that have seen asset prices boom.

The Affluence LIC Fund does not have exposure to any Russian stocks. Given that we were well positioned for the volatile conditions that came our way in February, we are a little disappointed with the loss of 1.4% for the month. Several positions contributed to the poor result, though we are confident that some of these losses can be reversed in the coming months. The most significant negative contributor was the Absolute Equity Performance Fund (AEG). Ironically, this LIC runs a market neutral strategy which would usually outperform under challenging conditions. Instead, the manager recorded a portfolio level loss of -10.6% in February, after a loss of 6.2% in January. This, combined with an understandable increase in the NTA discount, led to the share price decreasing by 17%. We had increased our position in AEG before the current drawdown, as the Board announced that they had commenced a "consultation process" to consider future options for the vehicle. We expect this to lead to some type of corporate action that will allow investors to exit at or close to NTA. We have made our views on what should happen very clear to the Board. The NTA discount on 28 February for AEG was 17%, and so should an acceptable solution be announced, there are reasonable prospects of recovering February's loss.

Other losses for the month mainly came from global LICs, including the two VGI Partners LICs (VG1 and VG8) and the Magellan Global Fund (MGF), partly offset by our index hedges. The VGI Partners LICs are at a crossroads. By the end of March, they have promised to announce the results of a review on removing the discount to NTA that has persisted for some time. Unusually, the review is being conducted by the manager, not by independent Directors. The process has been ongoing for more than three months and has coincided with the listed manager (VGI) announcing a tentative agreement to merge with another fund manager, Regal. In our view, the key problem sustaining the discounts is that the underlying portfolio performance for VG1 and VG8 has been very poor. Unfortunately, this has meant that while investors wait for a response from the manager to close the discount, the NTA has continued to fall. There is now a significant conflict between the manager and the interests of investors in the LICs. Management may well be motivated to maintain the level of FUM in VG1 and VG8 to maximise the outcome from any merger with Regal. For investors in VG1 and VG8, barring a stunning recovery in investment performance, the most desirable solutions would seem to involve either a wind-up, delisting, or merger of the LICs with another vehicle. Those solutions are much more likely to result in a significant loss of FUM for the manager. If VGI recommends a path forward that does not allow investors an opportunity to exit at or very close to NTA, the likelihood of shareholder activism will increase substantially. As with AEG, we have made our views on what should happen very clear to VGI management.

At the end of February, the Fund held investments in 24 LICs representing 73% of the Fund, 5% in portfolio hedges and 22% in cash. The average NTA discount for the LIC portfolio at the end of the month was 15%, compared to the 14.8% discount at the end of January.

What Makes This Fund Different

Traditional Fund Managers	Affluence - Invest Differently
Follow The Herd: Traditional managers are too scared to fail, so they don't succeed. Most don't outperform the index.	Actively Pursue Out-performance: From our fee structure alignment to our investment methodology, our strategy targets positive returns and low volatility.
Restricted Product Selection: Commonly places clients into their own managed funds or choose from a restricted list of 'approved' funds.	Best Of Breed: We will seek the best LICs, and combine them in a way which cushions against market corrections.
Traditional Asset Classes: Manage large amounts in traditional asset classes (e.g. ASX200 equities), which minimises chances of excess performance.	Unique Strategies: We prefer managers who operate in specialised markets with less funds under management and a competitive advantage.
High, Fixed Fees: Take fees regardless of performance.	No Fixed Fees: Our fees are 100% performance based.
