Investment Objective

The Fund aims to outperform the ASX Small Ordinaries Index over rolling 5 year periods and to deliver these returns with less volatility than the index.

Investment Strategy

The Fund invests with managers who specialise in investing in ASX Small Companies, primarily through unlisted managed funds. In addition, the Fund may also invest directly into ASX Small Companies, ASX listed LICs and have exposure to some global equities.

Why Use The Fund?

Portfolio Use

The Fund is designed to be used as a smaller part of an investment portfolio for those investors seeking Capital Growth and Income Distributions with a longer investment timeframe, at least a High risk/return profile and needing access to capital Monthly or less often.

Access to Differentiated Strategy

The Fund provides access to a wide range of small companies that may compliment investors portfolios.

Fund Commentary

The Affluence Small Company Fund increased 2.4% in January, underperforming the ASX Small Ordinaries Index which increased 6.6%. The Fund has returned 9.4% per annum since inception in April 2016, outperforming the ASX Small Ordinaries Index which has increased by 7.3% per annum.

Australian and global equity markets rocketed higher in January on the back of a bout of bullish sentiment from investors. The reason behind the increases appeared to be from investors trying to read the tea leaves to predict the future moves of central banks and the path of inflation. After the Christmas break both the Australian Reserve Bank and US Federal Reserve increased interest rates by 0.25% to continue their fight against inflation. Both central banks flagged that they expect further rate increases in the months ahead.

With the positive returns for January the Affluence Small Company Fund has pleasingly recovered its high water mark, meaning all losses for the fund have been recovered. We continue to be cautiously positioned. Asset prices are not cheap and the record increase in interest rates is still working its way through the economy and is not yet reflected in company earnings.

The largest positive contributors were the Level 18 Fund, the Phoenix Opportunities Fund and the Phoenix Global Opportunities Fund.

At the end of January the portfolio included eight unlisted funds (58% of the portfolio), eight LICs (15%) and seven ASX listed Small Companies (23%). The balance 4% was cash and hedges.

Is the Fund right for you?	Does it suit your portfolio?	Why invest with Affluence?
The Affluence Small Company Fund aims to invest primarily with boutique investment managers that specialise in ASX Small Companies (defined as those outside of the ASX100 Index). We believe there is more opportunity for smaller companies to be able to grow their earnings. As they grow, price/earning multiples can also increase. We also believe that it is easier for talented specialist investment managers to find mispriced opportunities in this sector. However, ASX Small Companies can also be more volatile and fall more in severe market downturns.	The Fund is designed to be used as a smaller part of an investment portfolio for those investors seeking Capital Growth and Income Distributions with a longer investment timeframe, at least a High risk/return profile and needing access to capital Monthly or less often. The Fund has outperformed its benchmark (ASX Small Ordinaries Index) with lower volatility since inception. As will all investments, the Fund is subject to risks. The value of an investment will go up and down over time, the Fund's returns will vary, future returns may differ from past returns, and returns are not guaranteed. This means that there is always the chance that you could lose money on an investment in the Fund.	We pride ourselves on the quality of our products and alignment with investors. We were the first investors in each of our funds. A significant proportion of our own and extended families wealth is invested in Affluence funds. We charge no fixed management fee for any of our funds. Instead, we charge a performance fee of 12.5% of positive returns. This encourages us to focus on generating strong returns, while managing risk and limiting losses. If our investors do well, we will do well. We believe managing less money than average provides us with significant advantages. So we don't aim to be the biggest manager. We do aim to be one of the best. We are proud of our performance record to date.
