Fund Features

- ✓ Fund has outperformed ASX Small Ords*
- ✓ Quarterly Distributions*
- ✓ Diversified access to smaller companies
- ✓ Eligible Investors only*

Investment Objective

The Fund aims to outperform the ASX Small Ordinaries Index over rolling 5 year periods and to deliver these returns with less volatility than the index.

Investment Strategy

The Fund invests with managers who specialise in investing in ASX Small Companies, primarily through unlisted managed funds. In addition, the Fund may also invest directly into ASX Small Companies, ASX listed LICs and have exposure to some global equities.

Why Use The Fund?

Portfolio Use

The Fund is designed to be used as a smaller part of an investment portfolio for those investors seeking Capital Growth and Income Distributions with a longer investment timeframe, at least a High risk / return profile and needing access to capital Monthly or less often.

Access to Differentiated Strategies

The Fund provides access to a wide range of small companies that may complement investors' portfolios.

Key Risks

As with all investments, the Fund is subject to risks. The returns of the Fund will be impacted by market cycles, particularly movements in the prices of ASX Small Companies. Other key risks include volatility and asset class concentration risk, economic and market risk, legal and regulatory risk, manager and key person risk and liquidity risk.

The Affluence Small Company Fund is open and available to Wholesale and Sophisticated Investors. If you have any questions please get in touch.

Fund Commentary*

The Affluence Small Company Fund decreased 1.1% in February, outperforming the ASX Small Ordinaries Index which decreased 2.6%. The Fund has returned 10.2% per annum since inception in April 2016, outperforming the ASX Small Ordinaries Index which has increased by 8.4% per annum.

There was an extreme divergence in February between the largest Australian stocks (the ASX20 increased 7.9% largely from banks and BHP) and the ASX Small Ords which fell 2.6%. The information technology sector was hit hard due to the threat of agentic AI after the release of the latest Anthropic Claude release. Investors fear that these new AI models are so good that existing software companies products will be easily replaceable, therefore they don't warrant the premium valuations that they have enjoyed. The RBA increased rates by 0.25% to 3.85% in February as inflation continues to run above forecasts. Markets are pricing in further rate hikes this year, which has become more likely in March due to the spike in oil prices from the war in Iran.

There is a seemingly exhaustive list of potential risks in the world at present (some mentioned above), yet most equity market valuations remain elevated. Through technology and AI we are potentially in one of the most rapidly transformative periods ever. On top of this add on a war in the middle east and potential oil crisis. The variance of potential outcomes is immense. Our focus continues to be on trying to find cheaper than average investments, while trying to increase diversification of our portfolios even further.

The largest positive contributors were BSA Limited (BSA) and Mitchell Services Limited (MSV).

At the end of February the portfolio included 10 managed funds (24% of the portfolio), 18 LICs (26%) and 42 ASX listed Small Companies (41%) and 2% other investments. The balance 6% was cash.

Is the Fund right for you?

The Affluence Small Company Fund aims to invest primarily in ASX Small Companies (those outside the ASX100 Index). We believe there is more opportunity for smaller companies to grow their earnings. As they grow, price-earning multiples can also increase. We also believe it is easier for talented specialist investment managers to find mispriced opportunities in this sector.

The Fund invests in ASX Small Companies directly and via specialist boutique investment managers.

We believe that ASX Small Companies represent an attractive investment opportunity. But they can also be volatile and fall more than other investments in severe market downturns.

Does it suit your portfolio?

The Fund is designed to be used as a smaller part of an investment portfolio for Eligible Investors seeking Capital Growth and Income Distributions with a longer investment timeframe, at least a High risk/return profile and needing access to capital Monthly or less often.

The Fund has outperformed its benchmark (ASX Small Ordinaries Index) with lower volatility since inception.

As with all investments, the Fund is subject to risks. The value of an investment will go up and down over time, the Fund's returns will vary, future returns may differ from past returns, and returns are not guaranteed. This means that there is always the chance that you could lose money on an investment in the Fund.

Why invest with Affluence?

We pride ourselves on the quality of our products and alignment with investors.

We were the first investors in each of our funds. A significant proportion of our own and extended families wealth is invested in Affluence funds.

We charge no fixed management fee for any of our funds. Instead, we charge a performance fee of 12.5% of positive returns<sup>4</sup>. This encourages us to focus on generating strong returns, while managing risk and limiting losses. If our investors do well, we will do well.

We believe managing less money than average provides us with significant advantages. So we don't aim to be the biggest manager. We do aim to be one of the best. We are proud of our performance record to date.
