Fund Commentary*

The Affluence LIC Fund increased 2.4% in April, outperforming the ASX200 Index which increased 2.2%.

April marked the Affluence LIC Fund's tenth anniversary. The Fund has outperformed its benchmark (the ASX200 Accumulation Index) since inception with significantly lower volatility and superior performance when markets fall. It is pleasing to have outperformed considering the very different market dynamics compared to ten years ago. For the first three years of the Fund's history the portfolio discount averaged approximately 7%. For the last three years the portfolio discount has averaged approximately 24% and is currently around 27%. While we don't require discounts to normalise (reduce) to generate strong returns, if discounts do reduce back towards more historically lower levels than this would create strong tailwinds for the Fund.

After a tough month in March, markets bounced back in April. The ASX200 Index and ASX Small Ords Index increased 2.2% and 3.3% respectively, however they lagged the S&P500 which leapt 10.5% and the NASDAQ up 15%. Equity markets are currently very trusting of the fragile ceasefire in the middle east and appear to be assuming oil and energy markets recover before the global economy suffers any further significant downgrades.

The RBA increased rates for a third time in early May to 4.35%, as inflation continues to increase.

The top contributors in April were Digico Infrastructure REIT (DGT), Pengana Private Equity (PE1) and Infragreen Group (IFN). The largest detractors were NGE Capital (NGE), Thorney Technologies (TEK) and our index hedges.

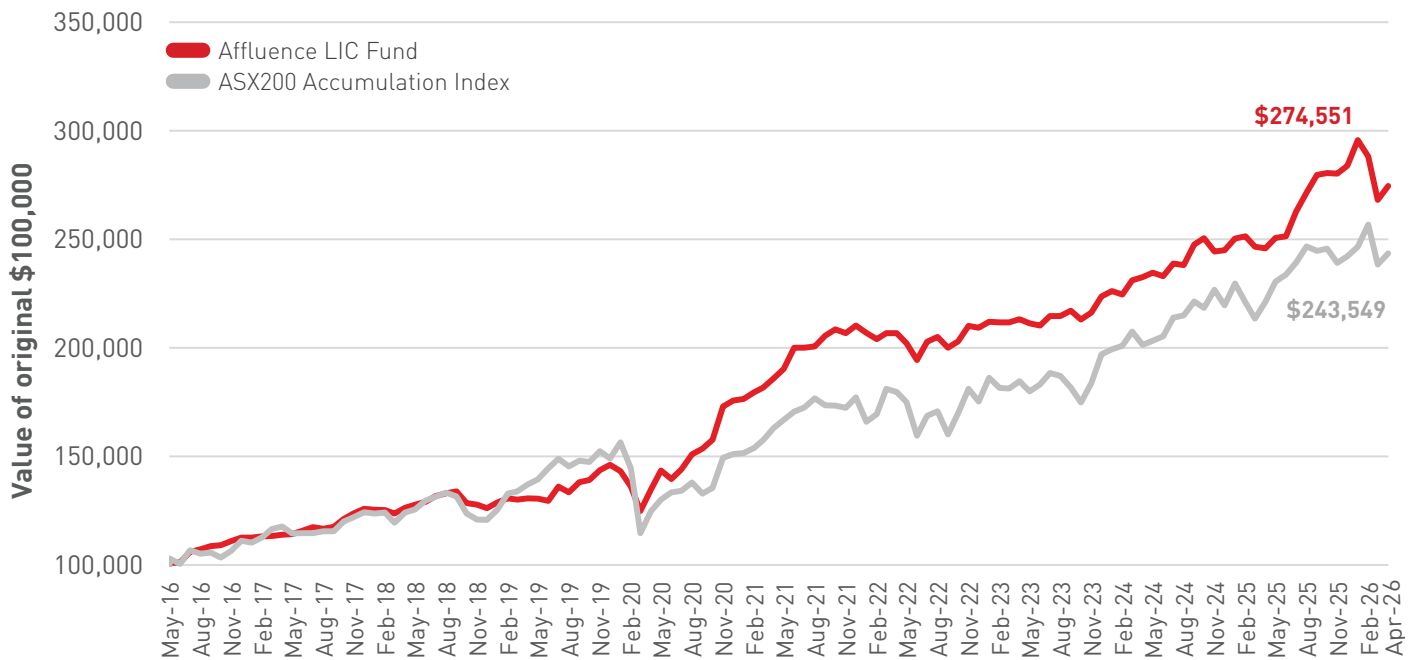

At the end of April the Fund held 35 LICs and other securities representing 93% of the Fund and 7% in cash. The average NTA discount for the LIC portfolio at the end of the month was approximately 27%, compared to the 26.9% discount at the end of March.

Is the Fund right for you?

The Affluence LIC Fund is one of the only funds in Australia that focuses on investing in LICs. Despite the large size of the LIC sector, there is relatively limited attention from institutional researchers and professional investment managers. This can provide more opportunities for mispricing than in other areas of the stock market. In addition, some quality investment managers can only be accessed through LICs.

Through LICs, the Fund provides access to Australian and global equities as well as some exposure to other asset classes. These LICs use a broad range of investment styles and investment strategies.

Does it suit your portfolio?

The Fund is designed to be used as part of an investment portfolio for those investors seeking Capital Growth and Income Distributions with a longer investment timeframe, at least a Medium risk/return profile and needing access to capital Monthly or less often.

The Fund has outperformed its benchmark (ASX200 Index) with lower volatility since inception, and has historically outperformed when markets fall significantly.

As with all investments, the Fund is subject to risks. The value of an investment will go up and down over time, the Fund's returns will vary, future returns may differ from past returns, and returns are not guaranteed. This means that there is always the chance that you could lose money on an investment in the Fund.

Why invest with Affluence?

We pride ourselves on the quality of our products and alignment with investors.

We were the first investors in each of our funds. A significant proportion of our own and extended families wealth is invested in Affluence funds.

We charge no fixed management fee for any of our funds. Instead, we charge a performance fee of 12.5% of positive returns⁴. This encourages us to focus on generating strong returns, while managing risk and limiting losses. If our investors do well, we will do well.

We believe managing less money than average provides us with significant advantages. So we don't aim to be the biggest manager. We do aim to be one of the best. We are proud of our performance record to date.
